"He always voted for the Town"

Carl Backman retired as a Selectman of Wilmington, Monday night. It was his last meeting, the end of a three year term.

The Wilmington Board of Selectmen, with perhaps an eye to the future, and most certainly one on the past, acclaimed Mr. Backman as a man who had "never voted for himself, and always voted for the town".

The past year of meetings, on the part of the Wilmington Selectmen, have been notable for the lack of wrangling and personal political action.

Planning Board slices Article 23

The Wilmington Planning Board, Tuesday night, removed from the consideration of the town meeting that portion of Article 23 which concerns the zoning of residential areas in Wilmington. The vote was reluctant, but unanimous, on a motion by Arthur Harding. As it will be presented in the Town Meeting, the Planning Board will seek approval of changes in zoning in business and industrial areas only.

Bill Hanlon, of the board, who started the discussion, said that he believed the article wouldn't have much chance, in the Town Meeting, and then added that the Board of Appeals "has a tendency" to "go by percentages", in deciding their cases, by which, he probably meant that appellants would have less chance, if the zoning districts were enlarged as proposed.

By agreeing to withdraw those portions of what the board might do sections pertaining to residential next year - one of them, by Arthur zoning the Planning Board did not Harding, being the establishment give up on the idea of a future of a new SRC zone, with lots rezoning. Several ideas were ad-

School committee, selectmen and builders attacked at Tewksbury candidates Night

The Tewksbury school committee, several selectmen and allegedly slack enforcement of building and subdivision regulations were attacked by several office-seekers at the town League of Women Voters' candidates night Friday.

More than 300 persons filled the Loella Dewing School auditorium to hear 29 candidates for 14 town posts speak and answer questions on issues. Voters will choose among 42 candidates for 20 town offices Saturday.

Road Cmsr. Neil Niven Jr. attacked two rival candidates for two, three-year terms open on the board of selectmen. Incumbents Joseph J. Whelan and Frederick H. Baldwin Jr., who seek re-election, drew Niven's fire for voting to appoint John J. McCarthy to the planning board last week.

Whelan, Baldwin, another selectman and a planner voted for McCarthy. Selectman Frank A. Antonelli and planners Edward A. Flanagan and George B. Donovan supported other applicants for the post. McCarthy will fill the last year of Baldwin's term on the planning board.

Attacks builders Niven criticized town officials for allegedly allowing builders to violate construction codes and subdivision rules and regulations. "I want to represent 22,000 citizens, not 22 builders," he added.

The outspoken road commissioner also promised to keep a sharp eye on budget requests. Members of the present board, he charged, "only browse the budget."

Andrew J. Murphy, who also seeks a three-year seat as selectman, said he was running because, "I don't want to see this town die as I've seen some signs setting in."

Murphy said apathy among residents was one of the greatest threats to the town. He also warned against the power of special interest groups and pledged, "I have no ties with any group in town."

Stress experience Whelan said the town was going through "drastic changes in government," such as reassessment and a new master plan. He stressed his experience as important in dealing with changes.

"I'm interested in doing the job for you in the future. I've tried hard to do it for you in the past," added Whelan, a long-time veteran on the board.

Baldwin also stressed his experience as a selectman. He stressed duties on the Northern Middlesex Area Commission, and said he helped improve the town's

Tewksbury town meeting to mull 120 Articles

Tewksbury residents will have more than enough work on their hands at their town meeting March 5-9, with 120 articles on the town warrant. Articles proposing rezoning much of Tewksbury, construction of the town's first sewers and a bond issue for $1.7 million in school additions are expected to draw enough voters to reach a quorum.

Article 73 includes the master plan's recommendations for changing present zoning by-laws and the town's zoning map. Passage of the article would mean, among other things, that large areas of the town would become residential zones that today are zoned for business or industry.

Planned Unit Development Overlay Districts would be allowed under zoning proposals. In such areas, developers could either build residential homes or mini-communities of single and multi-family homes serviced by small convenience shops.

Would rezone much land The zoning proposals would allow rezoning of much of the town to residential districts where cluster developments would be allowed but not required. Cluster developments are subdivisions where lot area and frontage requirements are reduced to allow more open space and efficient use of land. The total number of building lots, however, would be no greater than the number allowed if the subdivision was not built as a cluster development.

Another major change allowed in the zoning proposals would permit multi-family housing in the town center area.

Passage of articles 57-60 would allow the sewer commission to begin phase one of the town's sewer construction program. The federal government has ordered the town to begin providing sewers and sewage treatment.

Included in the sewer articles are permission for the sewer commission to float a $425,000 bond issue for the first step in providing sewers. Permission is also sought to allow the commission to negotiate a contract with Lowell, whose proposed sewer treatment facilities would be used by the town.

THE SHAMBLES AT ST. DOROTHY'S

Four juveniles, Wednesday night, made a shambles of the lower hall and offices in St. Dorothy's Church. They were identified, next morning, by Sgt. Ellsworth and Patrolman Dolan, and face action in Webster Court. Fr. Drennan is shown using the telephone in Sister Delores' office, where the damage was not as extensive as in other parts of the church.

Now that the campaign is over, let's get down to the business of education.

I.R.S. wants to know what the cops Make

Wilmington's Board of Selectmen have agreed to discuss with the Town Counsel the question of what to do about the earnings of the Wilmington Policemen, when they are not working for the town. The Selectmen were disconcerted, Monday night, to learn that the US Internal Revenue expects them to withhold monies, and pay for taxes on earnings other than those paid by the town.

The agent's name was Thomas Connors. Perhaps the message he had was new to the Selectmen, but there have been stories around about the same thing happening in other towns, and Mr. Connors named a town official who, he said, was appraised by his department last July, with a follow-up letter in November.

There were several problems. 1. The town could not receive the money it would be paying out again, as the result of a policeman's earnings, because any money received goes into the treasury (the so-called E & D) and cannot by law be expended until authorized by a Town Meeting vote.

2. If the town were to pay to the US Treasury the money it did receive as taxes on the earnings, it would have to come from another appropriation, which would be illegal, too. Besides, the appropriation might soon run out.

Mr. Connors pointed out that the town could just take the "withholding tax" out of the Policeman's pay.

Connors pointed out that the extra pay made by policemen, doing such things as guarding a function, or extra-duty traffic control, is by assignment from the Chief of Police, by state law. The individual police are not independent contractors he said.

The Town Manager started to tell him about the contract negotiations with the Policemen's Union, but Connors was firm.

Chairman George Boylen, several times, tried to say that they should wait until the next Town Meeting, so that money could be appropriated. The last attempt brought a suggestion from Connors that a letter be written to the District Director of Internal Revenue - then he said, it will be up to the Director.

The Director, he assured the Selectmen, is directly interested in the policemen's private earnings.

Letters

Dear Larz:

This letter is in regard to two dissatisfied Wilmington taxpayers.

It gets annoying to buy property in a residential zone and find after eight or nine years, you are surrounded by industry, then to look out your living room window and visualize apartment houses across the street. We wonder how many of the residents of this town would feel if, they invested their money and time in a fairly decent home to find that the town is going to surround your pleasant home with an entirely different environment. We refer particularly to the several articles requesting zoning changes in the Woburn St. area, between Eames St. and Lucci's shopping center. We feel that passage of these articles will result in a complete change in the neighborhood as we know it today.

For many years we have had a major water problem which, thanks to Bob Palmer and his crew, has been somewhat reduced, however rezoning in these swampy areas can only undo and, in all probability create, a water problem more serious than originally existed.

We believe that if the voters are the least bit concerned about keeping their own residential areas ideal for raising their families, then these voters should voice their opinions at the town meeting.

Sincerely
William H. Turner
Alexander E. Quandt

Dear Mr. Morris:

Last Tuesday, February 20th two Tewksbury boards reached a new low in political maneuvering for the benefit of a private interest group, namely the local builders. Specifically, I refer to a joint meeting, between the board of selectmen and the planning board, called to make an appointment to a vacant position on the planning board. This meeting had been postponed from the previous week to allow time for interested and qualified applicants to submit written resumes for the position.

At the previous meeting Selectman Whelan, Sheehan and Antonelli and Planner Flanagan had voted for one week's postponement in order to keep the position open and available to the best qualified person in town.

However, the actual vote on the appointment was in direct contrast to the reason for postponement. Even though two written resumes were submitted by individuals with outstanding qualifications, Selectmen Whelan and Sheehan and builder-Selectman Baldwin and builder-Planner Doherty voted for, and appointed, a man who had not even submitted a resume and who apparently had no valid qualifications.

In a losing cause, Selectman Antonelli and Planners Flanagan and Donovan voted for the qualified candidates.

Why was this irresponsible appointment made? Were they afraid that the builders would lose control of the planning board to the "people"? Didn't they know that the town has just spent $40,000 on the master plan and that their appointee will have to implement this plan? Didn't they know that the two by-passed applicants have worked hard on a volunteer basis for over a year on this master plan with the consultants? Didn't they know that their appointee is a fellow bartender - friend of builder planner Doherty?

Voters of Tewksbury, I plead with you to open your eyes and examine the background and/or voting record of all candidates before you vote in town election on Saturday, March 3rd.

Sincerely
Edward A. Flanagan
Tewksbury Planning Board

At a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Reading Savings Bank, Alice Sweeney was elected Vice Treasurer. Lawrence P. Camerlengo

CAMERLENGO SEEKS HOUSING AUTHORITY SEAT IN TEWKSBURY

Lawrence P. Camerlengo has announced his candidacy for a seat on the Tewksbury housing authority. Camerlengo, 38, is a sales representative for Lowell Lincoln-Mercury.

Camerlengo, of 846 Main St., is chairman of the town community action committee. He also serves on the board of directors of Community Team Worth, Inc., which represents limited income residents of the town.

A past president of St. Williams HNS, he is program director for the Father Coppen Council, Knights of Columbus, No. 4336. He is also a past grand knight of the K of C.

In announcing his candidacy, he said, "I am seeking this office to bring better attention and awareness to the residents of our town the full meaning and purpose of the housing authority and the many benefits that are available to which the townspeople of Tewksbury should have better access."

129 articles

struction costs for main lines and the cost of easements and land purchases for the main lines and associated equipment.

Article 86, proposed by the school committee and long range school planning committee, seeks permission to float a bond issue of $1,707,987 to equip and construct additions to the Shawshen, Heathbrook and North Street schools.

The additions would house kindergarten and elementary classes, and would partly alleviate overcrowding in present facilities.

Article 18 seeks permission to float a bond issue of more than $200,000 to build a fire sub-station on North Road. The land for the sub-station would be accepted as a gift from Wang Laboratories, or would be taken by eminent domain or otherwise under article 17. The selectmen will disclose the actual cost of the sub-station at the town meeting.

Garage addition asked
An addition to the highway and tree departments' garage is proposed in article 68. The $205,000 addition would allow all vehicles of the departments to be housed in the facility, and part of the funds would be used to provide a sprinkler system and rewiring of the facility to prevent fire hazards. The funds would be provided through a bond issue.

Articles 103, 104 and 105 each provide a separate proposal on what the town should do with $233,000 appropriated by the 1972 town meeting for portable classrooms but never spent by the school committee.

School Committeeman James E. Sullivan and others propose the funds be used together with $17,000 more for a year's rent on a privately owned school building proposed for construction by developer John V. Sullivan. The Tewksbury Taxpayers Assn. and Mrs. Joan Muir and others have submitted separate articles proposing the money be used to cut the 1973 tax rate.

Town Auditor Thomas Berube has submitted article 34, which seeks to have the town meeting place the $233,000 in the excess and deficiency accounts. Berube, however, said at a finance committee meeting recently that he will withdraw the article.

Rented school opposed
Sullivan's proposal is expected to draw opposition from several residents who oppose spending funds on anything but permanent school additions. Several fear the town will lose state aid if it doesn't eventually buy the privately-owned school.

Article 54 is a request by the water commission for $60,000 to build an addition to the water department's garage. Road Cmsr. Richard Trueba and others are expected to oppose the addition. They consider the article counter to proposals the town centralize garaging by further adding onto the highway and tree department garage to include the water and sewer departments.

The selectmen propose in article 19 that the town rescind its action at the 1972 town meeting on restricting town water to customers located entirely within town boundaries. The 1972 action would cut water service to Raytheon's plant at the junction of Lowell, Billerica and Tewksbury, and the firm has threatened to sue the town to overturn the restriction.

Would restrict permits
Article 95, sponsored by Robert E. Mangieri and others, proposes no permit for construction in any subdivision be granted to anyone except the developer whose name appears on the approved subdivision plan.

The restriction, which would only apply to new construction, has drawn criticism from persons who fear persons buying land in abandoned subdivisions might not be able to get construction permits if the original developer is no longer available. Mangieri seeks passage of the article to establish responsibility for subdivisions.

Mangieri and others also sponsor article 97, which would lower quorums at town meetings to 200 persons. Mangieri and others sponsor article 98 which would require by-law amendments be passed by 300 affirmative votes, or a majority of those present and voting, whichever is greater.

Propose warrant restriction
Article 99, also sponsored by Mangieri and others, would block anyone from placing an article in a town warrant to alter personnel by-laws without prior consent of the personnel board. Supporters fear town employees' articles to go over the head of the personnel board. Critics question whether passage of Article 99 would violate personal liberties.

Article 82, sponsored by the personnel board, would have the town pay a town employee or his estate for expenses or damages incurred in the defense or settlement of an action brought against him for acts done by him while acting within the scope of his employment.

This article is expected to draw opposition from critics who fear the act will diminish the personal responsibility of public servants. Several persons are suing two police and town selectmen for $100,000 for allegedly violating their civil rights in connection with an alleged case of police brutality against two teenagers December 24, 1971.

Want youth center staff
James E. Sullivan and others sponsor article 93, which seeks $25,000 to organize and staff the youth center under the direction of the park commission and Tewksbury Youth Center, Inc.

Article 99, also sponsored by Mangieri and others, would forbid anyone proposing a change in personnel by-laws be entered in the town warrant without the consent of the personnel board. Critics have questioned the constitutionality of this article.

Road Cmsr. Trueba and others sponsor article 100, which would set minimum rights of way, roadway pavements and turnaround sizes for subdivision roads.

A course in human sexuality will be offered in the vestry of Tewksbury Congregational Church from April 23 through June 4, except May 28.

The course will be held Monday nights from 7:30 to 9:30, and participation costs only a nominal fee. The program is presented in cooperation with the church's board of religious education and the Lowell Family Planning Program.

Mrs. Ann B. Haskell, R.N., community health educator for the Lowell Family Planning Program of Lowell General Hospital will be resource leaders at the meetings.

Registration is limited to 25 adults and applications are available at the church school office.

Head trainer for the Whalers

Joe Alcott, 5 Woodland Drive, a resident of Wilmington since last August, was a guest of the School Committee last Thursday, where he related a few insights into training programs.

The New England area, Alcott said, is way behind times. Most high schools in this area do not have trainers. There is a great need for them.

A trainer, he said, is in one respect a liaison man between the Athletic Director and the Doctor. He is the man who knows what to do until the Doctor arrives, and this, Alcott said, is important. He put the expected salary of a trainer the same as a starting teacher.

A trainer, he said, has a degree of Master of Education in Rehabilitation, and 1800 hours of apprentice work is involved. Massachusetts does not have certification for Trainers, as yet.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE
Dave Trickett Milt Cram
POL ADVT. Ted Lowry 24 Moore Street

The Wilmington School Committee will meet tonight to consider a cut in the coming budget of $138,290 - less than 2% of the $8 million plus budget for the 18 month period to be acted on in the annual Town Meeting.

The preliminaries of the cuts were discussed last Thursday, by the committee, in an informal session. The Wilmington Finance Committee had requested a cut of $690,000.

There are fifteen items in the possible cut-list of the School Committee, to discuss tonight in the Roman House.

1. Cut $35,260 from funds for re-opening the Mildred Rogers School this fall. This, the committee says, will boost the estimated size of classes in Wilmington to 32 pupils in the sixth grade, and 27 in the first grade.

2. Cut Summer School $10,881. The committee believes that the summer school will then be self supporting, with an estimated cost of $35 to $40 per pupil.

3. Evening School $9,964. The Night School would then be self supporting.

4. NDEA (a state) program. Reduce $10,000.

5. Band Uniforms. $11,000. There will be no new band uniforms.

6. New Nursing Program. Reduce $7,000.

7. Kindergarten Program cut-back - two teachers, two aides. $26,000.

8. One Elementary Counselor $10,000.

9. Allocation for Athletic Trainer, $2,000.

10. New Art Teacher. Reduction in anticipated hiring salary, $1,000. This will mean that a first year teacher will be hired.

11. 1/2 Learning Disabilities Teacher. Reduction $5,000. This is for kindergarten classes.

12. Handwriting program. $3,600.

13. Assistant Hockey Coach. $565.

14. Capital Outlay, $5,000.

15. Reduction in Utility Bills, Tennis Court lighting. $5,000.

ADULTS CONTINUE STREAKY PLAY

Following this past week's play all six adult clubs have streaks both winning and losing going for them. Patenaude extended their win streak to five with a 101-86 triumph over Newhouse, while the Builders were losing their fifth straight to move into sole possession of second place.

Super-Stars increased their unbeaten streak to 12 and Sweetheart won twice to bring their record to 500 for the initial time in league history.

Sweetheart jumped out to a 20-7 first period lead and went on to defeat Ford, 69-65 in last Wednesday's other contest. Bob Klesaris led the winners with 27 points while Bill Jensen tossed in 18 for Ford.

Sunday evening Buich McFeeters provided the Stars with their margin of victory, 59-58 over Ford with a successful free throw to snap a tie game as only three seconds remained on the clock. Ed Doherty and George Pratt hit for 15 and 13 points respectively to lead the divisional leaders. Bill Jensen tossed in 26 points for the undermanned Ford Quintet, which was losing its sixth game in seven outings.

In the nite cap Sweetheart posted their third straight win while slammung Cain's, 91-45 behind the scoring of Joe Dooley (33) and Bob Klesaris (32). Bob Cassello fired in 21 points for the cellar dwelling Cain quintet.

EXTRA EFFORT: Scott MacGillivray of the Royals, using his height advantage, controls the all-important fourth quarter tap-off against Vin Scifo of the Knicks in the Senior playoff contest.

PERFECT FORM: Bobby Butler exhibits his rare free throw style in last Saturday's Intermediate playoff against Harvard.

TOURNAMENT TOPICS

WILDCATS ADVANCE IN EMAS HOCKEY

The surprising WHS varsity hockey sextet moved into second round competition in Division II of the EMAS Hockey Tourney Monday night with a convincing 4-1 triumph over Masconomet Regional.

The Wildcats jumped out to an early 1-0 lead on a power play goal by John Harrison in the opening stanza and the icemen were off and running. The Chieftains got themselves into trouble early as defenseman Steve Enskhard went off for tripping at the 48 second mark, but the Wildcats were unable to score.

Later in the period Enskhard went to the penalty box at 4:21 for tripping and the Wildcats put their power play on display again. This time the varsity forged ahead as junior John Harrison beat Masco's Roger Wilde midst a goal mouth scramble.

Later in the period senior Frank McLean beat Wilde in the short side with a 20 foot drive with Harrison and Dana Mullarky assisting. Masco closed the gap to 2-1 in the latter stages of the middle frame as Blair Roberge banged home a Hal Taft rebound past Dean Devlin. However, Harrison gave the Wildcats a big lift less than a minute later as he outtraced the Chieftains defense and went in alone to beat Wilde for a two goal lead.

REDMEN ADVANCE IN HOOP TOURNEY

Tewksbury's varsity basketball quintet moved into the quarter final round of the Northern sector of Division I Tuesday night with a convincing win over Lynn Classical, 71-55. The Redmen jumped out to an early first period lead of 25-12 and the outcome was never in doubt.

Bill Mackey led the varsity scoring attack with 17 points while Gary Jenkins and Jim Muese chipped in with 15 and 14 respectively. The Redmen converted on 12 of 16 field goal attempts in the opening stanza enroute to an early lead. Tonight the varsity goes up against Danvers in a 7:30 encounter at Beverly High. Danvers topped Lawrence Voke in their opening round clash and the Falcons are now sporting an overall 12-5 record.

Last Friday evening the Redmen put forth a fine defensive effort and nearly defeated powerful Andover, but a late Warrior rally ended all hopes of a share of the MVC title.

The varsity led all the way until the final three minutes of the game when Andover went ahead to stay at 23-22. The Redmen held the cold-shooting Warriors scoreless for the first 12 minutes of the contest as Coach Romano's quintet used a slowed down attack in an effort to force Andover out of their zone defense.

Andover went into a man-to-man defense in the middle frame and this eventually paid off as the Redmen turned the ball over on some errant passes in the last period. All five of the varsity starters turned in creditable performances. Co-captain Jim Meuse

HARVARD, CHARGERS ROYALS COP PLAYOFF TITLES

In the finale of the Boys' divisional playoffs last Saturday at the HS gym the seniors staged a record breaking double overtime contest to hilite the triple header. Coach Kitter's Royals were forced to limit before they were able to defeat the Knicks, 47-43 in two overtimes.

The regular season winners jumped out to a 20-14 halftime lead only to have the Knicks close the gap to a single point, 27-26 at the three quarter mark. In the final frame the Knicks went ahead 37-39 with 25 seconds left, on a Vin Scifo jump shot. The Royals' Bob Burns stole an errant Knicks pass and got fouled. Burns then c'nly sunk both attempts to tie the score.

Dave Newhouse put the Knicks ahead early in the first overtime frame on a base line drive. However, Burns again tied the game with 19 seconds left with a pair of successful free throws. In the second extra period Sid Tildsley and Burns hit quick jump shots and the Royals moved up top by four and they never looked back. In the waning seconds Burns made two free throws for a commanding, 47-41 lead and with time running out Scifo scored at the buzzers to bring to a close the longest boys' game on record.

Earlier in the day Harvard edged Tufts, 7-6 for the Intermediate crown. Eddie Han-## playing tough defense.

Mon. Feb. 19th. Don Currier and Bob Zwhalen led the Generals to their second straight win whipping the Blazers, 6-3 while the Cougars topped the Crusaders, 5-2.

In the lid lifter each club exchanged three first period goals and it looks like a wide open contest, but General netminder Bob Swahlen shut-out the Blazers in the last two frames and the Generals forged ahead on Don Currier's two goals for a 5-3 lead.

Charlie Arsenault also tallied twice for the winners while Snooky Lynch and Jim Jillett scored one each. Dave Carlson fired home a pair of goals for the Blazers while Jim Cushing picked up a goal and an assist.

Harrison got his third goal in the opening minute of the last period following some excellent passing by defenseman Tom Bromander and wing Frank McLean. The play began at the right point as Bromander kept the puck in the zone as he fired the puck off the boards to McLean, who in turn fed Harrison at the right of the Chief's goal and the Wildcats center ice man made no mistake as he beat Wilde to the short side.

In retrospect it was a truly team effort as the defense corp of Capt. Dan Kindred, Devin Tighe and Tom Bromander gave goalie Devin more support than usual. The second line of Dan Bicknell, Dan Burns and Brian Phillips checked very well and kept hustling all night to provide the first line with the needed rest bit.

Tonight the boys hope to continue their winning ways traveling to Boston to skate against Don Bosco High, the Catholic Central champs. The face off is listed for 7:30 at the Arena.

On Sunday morning the Blues were back to Wilmington and engaged the Wilmington Red team. Walsh and Sarsfield combined for a short-handed goal but that was all, as the Wilmington club came out on top 6-1.

Heading the defensive chores were Montcalvo, McCaw, Barnes and Jacquard.

On offense were Mara, Doherty, Boyle and Morse.

The Blues overall record is 8-5-3, and they will be returning to action this Saturday at Tyngsboro.

In an attempt to tie the contest. In other games played last week the A's tied South Boston and Billerica while defeating Charlestown, 5-1.

Pee Wee B's (12-8-0) Coach Mickle's skaters lost a close 4-3 game to Wakefield last weekend as the visitors scored the game winner on a penalty shot in the last period.

Goal scorers for Wilmington were Billy McCann, Billy Murphy and Matt Kmon. Assists were garnered by Murphy (2), McCann (1), Kmon (1) and Greg Howell.

Squirt A's (4-16-1) Lost to Tewksbury 6-5 after taking a 5-2 lead midway into the second period. Mike Beatrice led the A's attack with a pair of goals while David LaLiberte, Peter Davey and Bobby Greenberg scored once each. Assists were picked up by Tim McCann, Pat Palmer and Jimmy Burns.

Squirt B's (8-11-2) Lost to a very strong Reading sextet, 2-0 last weekend.

Mite A's (7-11-1) The mites snapped a three game losing streak Monday evening with a 1-0 triumph over the Stoneham B squad. Chuck McNeil's unassisted goal at 6:14 of the opening period provided the A's with their margin of victory.

Dana Tarricone and Jeff Lux shared the goal tending duties while preserving the shut-out. This was a strong team effort as the passing was sharp and crisp by the boys along with some good defensive play. The game puck was awarded to Chris Turner for his excellent two-way play.

Seven different skaters scored for the Blazers, but it was not until the final period that they won their game over the lowly Crusaders. Both clubs tallied three times in the opening frame and in the middle period the Blazers forged ahead, 6-5. Paul Currier knotted the game at 6-6 early in the last period only to have Dave Carlson put the winners back on top, 7-6. Nick Katramados put the icing on the cake with a goal in the waning moments to provide the final margin of victory.

In the second contest the Generals broke open a close 1-0 game with three middle stanza goals enroute to their win over the Cougars. Dan O'Connell with a pair of goals and Jim Jillette with a pair and of assists and a goal led the winners. Dana Tighe picked up four points on two goals and a pair of assists to lead the Cougar attack.

non led Bob Stewart's club with three points while teammates Ricky Ballou and Glen Carlson chipped in with two each. Bob Butler scored all of the Tufts points with some excellent shooting. Diminutive Bobby McCoy did not score for Tufts, but he was a little buzz saw with his endless hustle throughout the contest.

The Chargers won their fourth game in a week to gain the junior title. Last Wednesday the upstart Chargers knocked off the regular season champion Patriots, 27-19 behind Dan Sullivan's 12 points to earn a final berth.

The Jets jumped out to a 13-11 half time lead before the Chargers took control. Eddie Marden led Coach Sullivan's crew to their comeback win scoring 9 of his 11 points in the second half.

MEN VS DONKEYS

Men versus Donkeys. That's right - men versus donkeys. The donkey basketball game scheduled at the Wilmington High School gym on March 6th at 7:30 pm will pit the teachers against the students in a game that will be filled with laughs, thrills, spills and fun galore.

The game will be sponsored in contribution for the Kevin Nolan Scholarship Fund. Tickets may be obtained from sophomore class officers. Tickets will also be available at the door, but will be 25¢ more.

WILMINGTON PLANNING BOARD

(presumably) larger than SRA, in which lots must be at least 22,500 square feet in area.

The SRC zone, Mr. Harding said, could encompass much of the present swampland, now in Wilmington, and other areas away from the travelled roads, on which no homes have been built.

The vote on Article 23 came at 1 am, after a long four and a half hour session, but with still an hour of debate and discussion to go. It was one of the longest Planning Board meetings in recent years.

In votes on other articles affecting zoning, and on Planning Board articles for the Town Meeting the board:

Voted affirmatively on Article 10 (Flood Plain), 18 (Wilmington Redevelopment Authority), 20 (the so-called Housekeeping Article), 21 and 22 (Official Map), 32 (Rezoning of Spinelli land in No. Wilmington), 36 (Changes in Zoning on land near Concord Street), and 40 (Changes in zoning on land along Lowell Street Park, near Route 93). The later vote was 4 to 0, Chairman Hooper refraining from a vote.

The Planning Board voted against: Articles 33, 34 and 35 (changes in zoning, for former Dr. Rounds land in North Wilmington), 39 (Gas Station on Lowell Street), 40 (Apartment Hous Zoning By-law), 41 and 42 (change zoning along Woburn St., for apartments), and 43 (change zoning of Ox-Bow Acres, so called, near Eames Street).

In the discussion about the proposed motel - restaurant complex in North Wilmington the members agreed that they would like to see the old building converted into a restaurant.

Bob Leahy said that he could vote for Apartment Zoning By-laws, now being proposed by Stanley Webber, with certain changes, and none were proposed. Bill MacKinnon said he was totally against apartment zoning.

Arthur Harding said he was not opposed to apartments, but that he felt that there should not be more units to an acre than in a SRB zone (4 units to the acre, Ed.).

Bill Hanlon was in favor of eight units to the acre.

Moratorium Article

A little reluctantly, but unanimously, the Planning Board voted to pass over Article 25 in the Town Meeting - the article in which they had proposed to stop construction of new homes for two years in Wilmington. Bill MacKinnon held out to the last, as being in favor. The job of explaining the vote to the Town Meeting was assigned to Bill Hanlon, and there is a side-bet of 10¢ between that gentleman and Arthur Harding that the voters will not allow the article to die, within two minutes of the time that Hanlon stops speaking.

The board decided to say, if asked for a position on Article 29 (sale of town owned land, near Congress Street) that they have nothing against the idea. The Quandt family seeks to purchase the land, which has 29,500 square feet.

WILMINGTON LWV ELECTION QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

John Reardon

1. Yes, by implementing federal and state programs in applicable local areas and by providing accurate surveys proving Wilmington's need for better housing.

2. No, not entirely. We can meet the needs of the elderly by providing another old age housing project similar to that of Deming Way. We can meet the needs of low and moderate income families by taking advantage of programs offered by the department of community affairs and the federal department of housing and urban development.

Questions for Candidate for the Regional Vocational Technical School Committee.

1. What should the vocational school be doing to serve the community it supports? Is it doing it now?

2. What courses would you like to see added to the curriculum in the next three years?

Frank McLean

1. By operating at its maximum educational as well as physical capacity. The committee is continually striving in both areas. Currently, there are over 670 students enrolled in the regular day programs (114 from Wilmington, approximately 170 in the afternoon supplementary program (40 from Wilmington), and over 400 in our evening course (75 from Wilmington). Also there is offered a full summer program.

2. At present there are offered 13 courses of study in various vocational and technical fields. As a result of much research and many studies, educational specifications have been written and approved. These specifications will add 12 additional courses to our curriculum. Town Meeting approval will be sought for these additions in the very near future.

New Pasta Time Restaurant

Just six months ago a fast food service offering quality Italian foods at reasonable prices opened its doors to the general public on Route C-1, Squire Rd., Revere. Known as Pasta Time the enterprise met with instant success and a second location was opened in Fitchburg.

Now, an entirely bigger, better and more exciting concept for Pasta Time has been introduced at the site of the Maverick on Route 28 in North Reading. Opening Thursday, March 1st, this new Pasta Time Restaurant is offering a wide variety of Italian dishes ranging from spaghetti, ravioli, shells, linguini, and ziti, special items include fettucine alfredo, shrimp scampi, shrimp cacciatore, crepe manicotti, egg plant parmesiana and a variety of pizza.

A brainchild of DeLora Foods, Inc. manufacturers of Italian foods, the Pasta Time concept has met with instant success. According to Pasta Time President Jerry Corradino of Wakefield, "the fact that authentic Italian cuisine can be prepared and served in a matter of minutes at moderate prices has contributed greatly to our success. No longer must hours of preparation go into Italian food. We're able to offer a large number of pasta items, as well as special delicacies, all prepared quickly while still retaining that homestyle flavor."

The Pasta Time Restaurant will conduct four distinct operations at the Maverick. Well known to the area customers is the Maverick Lounge, which will continue to offer the best in rock bands nightly.

A fast food operation for those in a hurry will be available for luncheons and dinners, and the same quality food will also be served in a more leisurely atmosphere for those wishing a cocktail before lunch or dinner in the main dining room. Entertainment and dancing will also be featured in this dining room, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings.

The function rooms will be utilized for private parties and banquets which, according to Mr. Corradino, will offer banquet menus geared to individual budgets.

A take-out service, which can package any Italian item on the menu in a matter of minutes is also available.

The parent company of Pasta Time is DeLora Foods, Inc. President of the firm is Jerry Corradino of Wakefield, a graduate of Burdett College. Married to the former Delores Constantino of Medford they are the parents of four children, Jerry, Jr.; James, Diana and Elena. Treasurer and co-owner of the firm is Charles Rotondo of Medford.

Mr. Rotondo is well known in the restaurant and food service industry for having been the first to package and retail spumoni.
